

Hoofcare Seminar for Horse Owners

Taught by certified farrier David J. Barron

Saturday February 12, 2011

1-5:00 pm $75

At the National School of Academic Equitation

(Near Maltby, off Echo Lake Road)

- Functions, Roles and operation of the equine hoof
- Common complaints and questions (F.A.Q): Myth Busting
- Summary: what to look for in the finished shoeing job and setting long term objectives for shoeing.
- Shoeing: An integrated approach between Equine professionals.

The class is open to all horse owners, whether professional or amateur. It will consist of lecture, discussion and observation. At the end of the class, participants will have the opportunity to observe the dissection of a donated hoof. (This part of the class is optional.)

David J. Barron, a farrier certified through both the American and South African Farriers Associations, has shod all sorts of horses engaged in active work in many disciplines in Africa, Arabia, Australia and the United States. He is a published author whose writing has been featured in the American Farrier's Journal. David has lectured as an instructor at the University of Nairobi.

Contact us to reserve your place:

mac@classical-equitation.com

360-668-5242